THE RIVER GOING DOWN.

SUBSIDENCE OF THE GREAT FLOOD.

Water Rapidly Running Out Notwithstanding a Heavy Rain—Another Drowning Accident—Fears of Another Rise.

CINCINNATI, Feb. 18.—During the entire day the vicinity of the accident opposite the Oberly House was crowded with people who not only filled the streets above the water line, but went out in boats to have a better view of the fatal building. At a casual glance the block appeared in fact, as the fronts on both East and Ludlow streets are still standing, but the back part of the houses is gone. The rear wall gave way and carried with it the main part of the building, breaking them across. Thus the front rooms were split in two. The fact that the front rooms were split in two was most providential, as otherwise there must have been a much greater loss of life. In one room, occupied by two men, one was killed and the other was not even disturbed. By placing ladders against the remaining wall the firemen were able to rescue the people still on the upper floors without much difficulty.

The property loss is hard to estimate at present, but thousands of dollars will probably be lost. The block was owned by Mrs. Shindler, whose loss will be about $5,000. The building was old and had been in a bad condition for some time, and young Woolner, the only survivor, says he was surprised to find the building taken away, as he will miss the landlady pay heavy damages for this accident, he is convinced the crash was not the necessary result of which was shown to her some time ago.

Some very bad escapes from death were reported by the survivors of the shocking accident. Ben Woolner says he did not see the crash, but he found himself going down into the water. With desperate strength he broke through the wall and plunger with his fist and crawled through the hole thus made. His arm and shoulder were badly bruised in the fall, but he was otherwise unharmed. W. Cox was one of the boarders on the third floor in a front room with William Huber. He bed was in the south part of the room and Huber at the north end. The room parted in the center, precipitating Cox down and leaving Huber unharmed. Cox says he was sleeping when he struck the water and felt bricks falling upon him. He managed to climb upon the remaining part of the second floor, but got out and down a ladder. His head was badly cut up by bricks. Louis Derry jumped out of a second-story window and was rescued by a boat crew, unharmed.

Sparks Flammert was at the third floor when the building fell. He was in a room next door with Matt Hartman. They all ran out and got down to the second floor, where they were rescued. None of them were injured. George Nigels' room, on the second floor, split in two, and he and his wife were rescued. Nigels' room remained uninjured on the part of the floor that held him.

Nellie Wood, who first heard the cracking of the wall, held a light for William Collier and Jim Radford to escape. They crowded out of a narrow passage, like a cat in a hat, and escaped. All bodies have been taken out of the wreck.

The river is now falling at the rate of half an inch an hour. It is at sixty-nine feet five inches. Cincinnati, Feb. 18.—Late—The river is now falling at the rate of half an inch an hour. It stands at present at about six feet six inches. Rain has been falling since the 14th, and it is feared that this will cause a rise in the fall which will hold until the Pittsburgh rise is called, reaching us. It is thought this rise will bring the water up here less than a foot, and that it will then immediately run down the river rapidly.

The situation remains without material change. The death list has been augmented by the drowning of a man and a child. The foot of Sycamore Street, but with the exception of the terrible Ludlow street accident, no casualties are being reported. The suffering amongst those who suffer grows worse every hour, and it is feared that the trouble will not go away with the receding waters. Thousands of people have been deprived of all their worldly possessions with the exception of the clothes on their backs, and will require help for many weeks to come while they are getting upon their feet once more.

VOYAGE OF THE RELIEF BOATS.
PITTSBURGH, Feb. 18.—A special from the Iron City Relief Crew, dated Stouenville, Ohio, says the boats stopped at Phillips Island, thirty-six miles out, at midnight. The boats came down cautiously, feeling their way, as the wind had swept away the Government signal light, making navigation dangerous. No lumber was at this point. The local committee was doing good work and there was no need of help. Great devastation on either bank was noticed. Houses, barns, mills, and almost everything is gone from once prosperous villages and farms. Their boat is now laid up at Stouenville awaiting orders from below.

THE SITUATION AT PITTSBURGH.
PITTSBURGH, Feb. 18.—To-night about one hundred and thirty-five families received aid from the Relief Committee in this city. On Monday a number of the boats arrived from the relief boats, giving employment to a large number of idle men who are depending on the boats for food, and will then be in a position to help themselves. The rivers have risen quite rapidly, but the river men do not look for a flood, as they think the great bulk of the water is already down. In the Monaca, a small steamer showed twenty-one feet, most of which was from the Allegheny backwater, although the river was rising. The Allegheny was up to twenty-one feet ten inches.

A DRAMATIC RESCUE.
CHICAGO, Feb. 18.—Sir Randall Roberts, manager for Wyndham the English comedian, has tendered Mayor Harrison the entire receipts from next Wednesday's matinee for the benefit of the flood sufferers. On the Board of Trade a large number of box and parquette seats were at once subscribed for.

NEW YORK'S CONTRIBUTION.
NEW YORK, Feb. 18.—Mayor Edson received today on behalf of the general fund for the relief of flood sufferers by the recent flood $4,785. The amount previously announced is $2,321; total, $5,106.

WHEELING, W. Va., Feb. 18.—The Iron City relief boat reached this city shortly after noon, remaining about half an hour. Mayor J. A. Miller, of Wheeling, met the committee and offered to aid. He will expect aid from the Government boat, which is needed early. At Wheeling the citizens crowded down to the wharf to greet the boat. It being reported that a fire immediate relief here. G. W. Colwell, chairman of the Wheeling Relief Committee, met the boat and the local relief committee for food, saying that the $1,000 granted by the Government will be spent shortly. The boat was loaded with meat, sugar, hams, coffee and macaroni were turned over to the committee. At Wheeling, the relief committee is doing good work. The relief committee is doing good work. The relief committee is doing good work.

INDIANAN SECRETARY'S LATEST REPORT.
Senator Patterson sent to the clerk a telegram from Richard Smith, of Cincinnati, asking further explanation by Congress for the relief of the flood. Mr. Smith said the Secretary of War had taken hold of this right away, doing nothing. The relief committee is doing good work. The relief committee is doing good work. The relief committee is doing good work.

THE LOSS AT LAWRENCEBURG.
LAWRENCEBURG, Ind., Feb. 18.—The loss of property by the late storm Wednesday and the floods amounts to $400,000. Nine hundred acres of water would have flooded the city had it not been for the levee. The old levee, although well constructed, was not strong enough to stop the rising water, bringing much suffering to those living in care and other places where they can't build levees.

FATALITY BURIED.

The men were suffocated in their beds but for the trainmen having been left open, which saved them.

A WIDOW'S SUICIDE.

She Follows the Example of Her Husband and Ends Her Life.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 18.—Mrs. Anna Heybert, at 430 Garden street, committed suicide Wednesday afternoon, but the fact was not discovered until the occupants of the house, alarmed at her non-appearance, broke open her room and discovered her body cold in bed, a deep wound in her breast and a seven-shooter bull-dog pistol lying by her side.

A letter was found saying that she had become tired of life, and requesting that a plain burial be given her remains by an undertaker named Snyder, of Germantown. Twenty-two dollars was found in her trunk and a bank-book showing deposits amounting to $500. Her husband killed himself about a year ago, and since then she has been subject to melancholia. She had lived with her brother in Egg Harbor City until a week ago, when she took rooms at the house where she died. Christina Frey had been with her on Wednesday morning, and in the afternoon. She then left and returning to the room at six o'clock found the door locked. Thinking nothing wrong, she went away, but coming back and again finding the door locked, her suspicions were aroused, and the room was forcibly entered. The surmise is that the act was committed on Wednesday during Miss Frey's absence.

TERRIBLE SUFFERING.

Frightful Condition to Which Certain Indians are Reduced.

PORT BRUNN, Dak., Feb. 18.—The condition of the Indians at the Poplar Creek and Wolf Point Agencies is so deplorable that unless speedy relief is afforded many of them will die from starvation. Heretofore game has been abundant in the region along the Missouri and Milk rivers, and the Indians were able, with the little assistance they received from the Government, to live with comparative comfort. But now the game is all destroyed and the question has resolved itself to the fact that they must either be fed by the Government or starve. Of the three thousand dogs in the possession of the Indians at Wolf Point one year ago, not one is now left. In addition to the dogs, many of the horses have been eaten, and many more have been traded off for food. Much the same state of things exists at the Poplar Creek Agency. It is a common thing to see no more of young girls going about after nightfall offering them to anyone who will furnish them with the means of keeping themselves from starvation. Men and children are weak and hollow-eyed from starvation. One small scoop of flour each week and a few pounds of beef each month comprise the issue to them, and they are so hungry that when this issue is made to them they eat it all in a day or two. Several of them have been found dead between their lodges and the agency, being so reduced by hunger as to be unable to resist the terribly cold weather.

An Editorial Fight.

HAGERSTOWN, Md., February 18.—A separation was created to-day in front of the Hagerstown Bank, by Andrew G. Boyd, correspondent of the Baltimore Sun, withholding Ira W. Hayes, publisher of the Daily Evening News. Before serious damage was done the men were separated. The result grew out of a communication which appeared in yesterday's Globe, which said: "The penny-a-liner who has been filling the News with squibs, over different signatures, against the Citizens Committee is indeed a fit person to suggest to taxpayers what is wrong and what is right. It is well known that this ex-editor and ex-editor of a defunct newspaper does not pay one cent of taxes and it is very doubtful if his name was ever in the tax book. All the squibs that have appeared in the News, it is known, are written by this person."

AMERICA AND CANADA.

The Governor General Makes Some Courteous International Remarks.

OTTAWA, Ont., Feb. 18.—The Governor General addressing the annual meeting of the Dominion Artillery Association, said: "You are not, and I hope, never will be, a military nation in the sense in which some of the great European powers are military nations. Your people have their peaceful pursuits and are engaged in developing the resources of the country. Your only citizen neighbor is a gun-nation, with which you are upon most friendly terms, and whose relations with you, as far as I know, absolutely unclouded. They are united to you by ties of descent, language, and common love of free institutions. Again, you form part of an Empire, and you may depend upon it, will never seek quarrel gratuitously or for any selfish purpose. For all these reasons the people of Canada are content to intrust what might be called national insurance to an army of very moderate strength, supported at a very moderate cost, and at a very moderate sacrifice of the time and attention of those who form the membership of the different forces."

Murdered His Wife.

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 18.—Mills Gatewood, a drunkard and an old workhouse graduate, was found dead in her room in the little shanty on North Sixth Street by the police. A wound on the head and traces of the arms and shoulders gave evidence of a severe struggle. Investigation developed the fact that he had quarreled and fought with "Ice" Gatewood, her husband. He has been arrested. An old woman who occupies an adjoining room states that she heard the scuffling late the night before and heard the death groans of the woman, but did not dare enter the room.

Mrs. Goodwin's Many Troubles.

Easton, Feb. 18.—The case against Mrs. J. C. Goodwin, the woman who figured here in Massachusetts, in Wholesaling and in Chinatown, in Wholesaling and in Chinatown, was taken to a verdict of not guilty and put the case on the country. The case was that brought by East & Ball for false pretenses. Mrs. Goodwin had, by her misrepresentations, obtained goods from them on credit. Mrs. Goodwin has five months to remain in prison, and when released will be taken either to West Virginia, for violating the United States postal law, or to Massachusetts, where she is wanted also.

Fight With Cowboys.

DEADWOOD, DAK., Feb. 18.—Information was received here a few days ago that an attempt would be made by cowboys to rescue Fraden, who had been arrested for horse-stealing. A party left Deadwood to assist the officers having Fraden in charge. At Stoneville the posse was attacked by cowboys. A man named O'Brien was killed, and Fred Willard wounded. One cowboy named Cunningham was killed; another was wounded and captured. The cowboys fled. A party is being organized to pursue them.

CAIRO, Feb. 18.—In the circus in Cairo an Italian serpent man, an Italian flag, whereupon an English officer issued a command of excitement. The serpent man covered the flag and waved it, when he was struck by a Frenchman. A snake released, and English officers separated the combatants. The Italian Consul has demanded satisfaction for the insult.

Strike at the Bottle.

A nervous and disease-stricken old gentleman was sitting in his room on an easy chair, his physician being at his side.

Said the old gentleman, "Now, doctor, you have been treating me for a long time, and haven't done me much good. I'm tired of this. I want you to strike at the root of all my disorders."

Said the doctor, "Do you mean exactly what you say?"

"To be sure I do," said the venerable invalid.

"Well, here goes!" said the doctor,—"and with one whack of his cane he broke to pieces the brandy-bottle which stood on the mantel. The old gentleman was angry and excited, but he had a good answer ready for the doctor. "Doctor, if it hadn't been for your doctrine, I never would have got into the habit of drinking."

In Brown's Iron Bitters there is strength for the debilitated, refreshment for the nervous, and new life for the broken-down.

Kendall's Spavin Cure.

ROME, ITALY, January 18, 1883.

B. J. KENDALL & Co., Gentlemen—I feel it duty to others suffering with the piles and haemorrhoids to write to you. I have used the pills and protractors of the rectum for six years, for the past three years have suffered the most agonizing pain. I tried everything without relief, but after ten days of Kendall's Spavin Cure, I have not seen or heard of the piles since. One who has not suffered as I have cannot comprehend the great joy that I felt at being cured of a disease which had almost ruined me. I had a valuable young horse that had a large benign growth on his hind leg. I tried all kinds of remedies and had it cut out without any benefit. I saw your advertisement and bought a bottle of Kendall's Spavin Cure and ordered my doctor to use it. In less than one week the lump had disappeared. Think that a liniment that would do what Kendall's Spavin Cure has done for my horse would be sent to any sufferer who writes to me.
